

Michigan Legion Demands Ouster Of Dean Acheson

GRAND RAPIDS — (P)—Michigan's American Legion is asking President Truman to dismiss Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

The Legion, concluding a defense-minded 32nd annual convention last night, demanded Acheson's immediate removal and appointment of a successor who would "prosecute a vigorous foreign policy."

Wagner Now Commander

The anti-Acheson resolution climaxed a session also marked by:

1. A reiterated demand for universal military training for which the Legion's woman auxiliary wants a house-to-house canvass to secure citizens support.

2. A proposal to amend the U. S. constitution to outlaw the Communist party.

3. A proposal that the FBI be assigned to counter-espionage work such as that which it conducted in World War II.

F. Addington Wagner, a Battle Creek navy combat veteran of the last war, was elected state

Elmira Wreck Is Investigated

Two-Train Collision Injures 13 Persons

ELMIRA, Mich.—(P)—An inquiry into a train wreck that injured 13 persons near here Saturday night is underway.

Pennsylvania railroad officials are questioning the injured in an attempt to fix the blame. Ten persons were hospitalized.

Officials declined to speculate on the cause until the investigation is completed.

A two-car passenger train collided head-on with a 19-car freight train on Elmira Hill, a nine-mile grade. A curve hid each train from the other.

The passenger train was moving down grade at 20 miles an hour and the freight uphill at five miles an hour.

William Wellcome, 53, of Rockford, and William Horniman, 62, of Petoskey, were engineers on the two diesel engines. Both were injured.

Four cars on the freight train were derailed while two sets of wheels on the passenger engine went off the track.

Fashionable Hotel Cancels Sunday Talk

By Owen Lattimore

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. — (P)—A scheduled speech by Owen Lattimore was cancelled by management of the fashionable Wentworth-By-The-Sea hotel last night because of protests by guests.

James B. Smith, owner of the resort hotel, said 210 of 350 guests voted 121 to 89 in a poll against Lattimore's appearance at an informal "Sunday night entertainment session." The 140 other guests, he said, did not return ballots.

Smith said he decided on taking a poll to determine the sentiment of the majority of guests after several protested verbally.

Lattimore, whose subject was to have been "the situation in Asia," said he was "extremely sorry" at not being allowed to speak.

Soo Hotel Burns

SAULT STE. MARIE — The Northview hotel on Portage Avenue was damaged today by a fire with a loss estimated at $10,000. No one was injured and guests were escorted from smoke-filled rooms by Sault firemen.

War Program Being Mapped Out In Lansing

Legislature Meets At 2 p. m. Tuesday

LANSING — (P)—Members of the House and Senate Appropriations committees today mapped plans for tomorrow's session of the legislature with Governor Williams' $1,500,000 war preparedness program the chief issue.

The two committees, which have been studying the governor's proposals for 10 days, expected to meet into the evening.

They must prepare a set of recommendations for the full assembly when it meets at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Sentiment, admittedly uncrystallized, appeared to favor a grant of $60,000 to $80,000 for a special state police subversive squad, upwards of $65,000 for civilian defense, and $30,000 to initiate organization of the state guard, a substitute for the National Guard in war time.

With the exception of state guard grant, all of these sums are smaller than Williams asked.

The committees reportedly were hostile to State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard's plea for 180 additional state troopers.

And they skirted indecisively around the governor's request for $1,300,000 to type the blood of 2,500,000 persons for a "living blood bank." The program will require two-and-a-half years to complete and will cost more than $3,000,000 in the end.

Assault By 64,000 Reds Bends Allied Line In Korea

Chinese Reds Mass To Help North Koreans

Manchurian Bombing By U. S. Charged

TAIPEI, Formosa, Monday — (P)—Nationalist China's defense ministry said today it had been "definitely established" that 270,000 Chinese Communists troops are concentrating on the Manchurian border "and in the territory of North Korea" ready to help the Korean Reds.

The Chinese Nationalist ministry—in an official statement—reported that these troops consisted of eight armies, two cavalry divisions and one artillery division.

It added that three Russian-equipped armies, under Gen. Lin Piao, were "known to have crossed the Yalu river last month."

The Yalu is the boundary between North Korea and Manchuria.

The ministry said the Chinese Reds were reported to have constructed "permanent" defense works along the Yalu.

ATTACKS DENIED

TOKYO — (P)—The Chinese Communists charged today that American planes attacked three Manchurian villages. The charge was promptly and strongly denied by a Far East air forces spokesman.

Chou en-lai, Red China's foreign minister, was reported by the Peiping radio as messaging Secretary of State Acheson a protest and appealing to the United Nations for "action" against the United States.

The broadcast heard here said three Manchurian villages near the Korean border were strafed Sunday and that a reconnaissance mission was flown over a fourth town.

The air forces spokesman said flatly: "No air force aircraft have been over Manchuria."

The presidents of seven major railroads were put in charge of rail operations in various sections of the nation with the rank of army colonels.

Will Resume Dickers

All negotiations are off for the time being. But talks are expected to be resumed after a few days. Probably the White House will seek to initiate and aid renewed talks. The government has made it clear that it won't try to make a deal with the unions, but that it is up to the carriers and unions to settle their own argument before the seizure order can be lifted.

The army indicated over the weekend that it will permit any railroad to handle its own finances, retaining all profits as usual, if the carrier will waive any claim for losses which might occur under seizure.

Jewry In America Will Assist Israel In Economic Plight

TEL AVIV, Israel, — (P)—A U. S. Zionist leader says American Jewry will help Israel out of her economic plight by backing Premier David Ben-Gurion's plan to settle 600,000 more Jews here.

Jacob Blaustein of Baltimore, president of the American Jewish Committee, said his organization would help raise the $1,600,000,000 needed for the settlement program and to help Israel attain national food self-sufficiency.

The throwing up of the rich subsoil threatened permanent ruin to Assam's tea industry, a major contributor to India's export trade. Swollen streams, their courses changed by the upheavals, also menaced the plantations and villages with waters contaminated with injurious mineral oils and sulphur.

Spreading flood waters pushed further over tea gardens in Assam province, where the quake hit hardest. The death toll was in the neighborhood of 5,000.

Minor shocks continued in the province. Millions prayed in the streets and fields.

An estimated 5,000,000 persons were reported homeless. Property damage was placed at $20,000,000. Damage to crops, farm animals and natural resources was expected to push this figure much higher.

The province, which formerly had its own dynasty of kings, has been inimical to the centralized government since it was established and the last king of Gojjam was deposed.

Switch Engine Rams London-Bound Train; 6 Killed, 25 Injured

CONWAY, Wales — (P)—Six persons were killed and 25 injured in the ramming of a switch engine by the London-bound crack passenger train Irish Mail five miles west of here yesterday.

The train, a half hour behind schedule on its run from the Irish sea port of Holyhead, was carrying many persons homeward bound from holidays in Ireland.

Jack Williams, an injured fireman aboard the Irish Mail, averted a possible second disaster by scrambling from the wrecked cab to halt an approaching freight train laden with high explosives.

BURIED IN LANSING — R. E. Olds, above, last of the automotive pioneers who died Saturday, will be buried tomorrow in Lansing where he built two automobile factories.

Olds, developer of the Oldsmobile and Reo motor cars, succumbed to the complications of old age. He was 36 years old. He had retired from the automobile field more than a decade ago but continued banking and business activities.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the Estes-Leadley funeral home and burial will be at Mt. Hope cemetery.

Manila Alert For Huk Raids

Guerrillas Stir Up Weekend Of Terror

MANILA — (P)—It was quiet in this Philippine capital today—in sharp contrast to the weekend of terror in nearby communities in which 78 persons were killed in guerrilla raids.

Widely-scattered rumors that Communist-led Hukbalahap guerrillas would attack Manila proved groundless.

Guards ringed Manila and other central Luzon cities Sunday night—alert against a continuation of raids which began Friday night. National defense headquarters reported 78 persons were killed, nine missing and 66 wounded in attacks on 12 small towns. The figures were revised upward slightly Sunday.

The Huks customarily attack at night and then flee to mountain hideouts.

Boy, 7, Tells How Coal Miner Father Shot His Mother

UNIONTOWN, Pa.—(P)—State police said a seven-year-old boy told them his coal miner father shot his mother to death after telling her "I've got something for you."

The coal miner, Chester Cole, 36, then turned the shotgun on himself, state police said.

Cole and his wife, Helen, also 36, had returned from a picnic shortly before the shooting yesterday. Seven-year-old Bobby was the only one of their four children home at the time.

WASHINGTON — (P)—Attorney Lee Pressman testified today that John Abt, Nathan Witt and Charles Kramer were fellow Communists with him when all were New Deal employees in the early 30's.

MacArthur Cancels Formosa Report On White House Orders

WASHINGTON — (P)—The White House said today that President Truman directed Gen. Douglas MacArthur to withdraw a statement on Formosa "to avoid confusion as to the United States position."

MacArthur had sent a statement of his views—saying Formosa must remain in friendly hands—to the veterans of foreign wars encampment at Chicago. Later, he said he had been directed to withdraw the statement.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross confirmed today what had been surmised—that Mr. Truman himself ordered the withdrawal.

Ross told reporters: "In order to avoid confusion as to the U. S. position with respect to Formosa, the President directed that the statement prepared by General MacArthur on this subject be withdrawn."

Asked whether MacArthur might be relieved of his command as a result of the incident, Ross said, "the incident is closed."

Simultaneously with the announcement of Mr. Truman's action, the White House released a letter from the President to Warren Austin, U. S. representative in the United Nations. This restated the United States position with reference to Formosa so that there will be "no misunderstanding."

Mr. Truman's stated policy is that Formosa must be neutralized so far as the Korean war is concerned, but this country will make no commitment other than to block any invasion attempt during the current crisis.

Navy Chief Rebuked

The incident was the second in as many days of knuckle-rapping for high officials of the military establishment who do not agree fully with administration foreign policy.

Secretary of the Navy Matthews was rebuked on Saturday by the state department—quite evidently with Mr. Truman's approval—for saying in a speech that this country should be prepared if necessary to institute a war to compel other nations to cooperate for peace.

The state department and White House both disavowed Matthews' assertions. The department's statement declared that what Matthews had said does not "present United States policy" and "the United States government does not favor instituting a war of any kind." Matthews said he spoke for himself.

The settlement, following hard upon Chrysler's $25,000,000 annual pay boost of last week, shaped more clearly the general pay picture for the big auto industry.

Only Ford among the industry's "big three"—Ford, Chrysler and GM—remains outside this picture.

Four Upper Peninsula Soldiers Listed As Casualties In Korea

WASHINGTON — (P)—The department of defense today announced the following Michigan casualties in the Korean area:

Killed in action: Private Melvin W. Morden, son of Mrs. Nettie E. Morden, Route 1, McMillan.

Wounded: Private First Class Richard J. Gendron, son of Mrs. Stella M. Gendron, 14th Avenue, Norway.

Missing in action: Private Robert C. Karpinen, son of William Karpinen, 100 Millionaire Street, Calumet.

Prisoner of War: Private Melvin J. Hill, son of Jalmer Hill, 658 Lake Street, Neegaunee. (Previously reported missing in action).

Hancock Dentist Dies

HANCOCK — Dr. Norman Fox, practicing dentist in Hancock for 48 years, died Saturday night in a hospital here where he had been a patient since June 1949, the date on which his wife met death in an automobile accident between Hancock and Calumet.

'One-Man Air Force' Grounded In Korea

By STAN SWINTON

MASAN, Korea — (P)—Maj. Dean Hess, the "one man air force" of the South Korean war, has been grounded by official order.

But only until he can take the air again leading South Korean flyers against the Reds.

Infantry units he has supported have written to his commanders, recommending him for medals ranging up to the distinguished service cross.

But for Hess the greatest reward was that infantrymen down in the flea-infested fox holes thanked him time and again.

Once he saved 25 surrounded American soldiers by strafing within 50 feet of them from an altitude so low the soldiers said the Reds could have hit his plane with rocks.

Hess, 32, a flying scholar who holds a master's degree from Ohio State university in diplomatic history, is officially head of the South Korean air force advisory group.

The order for him to stop flying came because higher headquarters wanted him on the ground to train 60 South Korean cadets now learning basic flying and another group of flying Koreans who must convert from AT-6 training planes to F-51 fighters.

City Of Pohang Threatened By 20,000 Troops

Enemy Is Desperate, Says U. S. General

By RELMAN MORIN

TOKYO — (P)—The right wing of the 120-mile-long allied southeastern Korea defense line bent back tonight before the power of a fresh Red Korean drive.

Severe fighting was reported from the central front rubble city of Waegwan 45 miles east to the Sea of Japan coast port of Pohang. Allied pilots reported the heavy fighting late Monday.

Key Port Menaced

Forty thousand of 64,000 Reds pressing the whole allied Korean defense perimeter were committed in the northern arc battle.

The line bent southward most near Red held Uihung, 22 miles north of the central front communications hub of Taegu, and just north and west of Pohang, No. 2 South Korean port on the east coast.

Earlier reports from the U. S. 8th Army in Korea and General MacArthur's headquarters had said the Reds had been contained.

AP correspondent Hal Boyle landed at the Pohang airstrip just before dark Monday and reported the Reds were 2½ miles from Pohang and advancing against a severe naval and land bombardment.

Making Last Gasp

The Reds before Pohang sprang suddenly from prepared defense positions which they had dug when the South Koreans pushed them back eight to nine miles north of Pohang.

In a message directed to the South Koreans, Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, U. S. 8th army commander in Korea, urged them to hold, and added:

"It is my belief the over-extended enemy is making his last gasp."

Correspondent Boyle said American officers at the Pohang airstrip, six miles below the Port city, felt the U. S. airfield could be held.

General Walker made his statement after expressing concern over earlier optimistic comment from line troops and officers.

The U. S. 8th army in a communique late Monday said the Communists advanced to within four miles of Pohang. A general staff officer at headquarters in Tokyo said the Reds were within two miles of the city on the north.

Big Guns Score

General MacArthur's late Monday communique said the other Red thrust was contained 22 miles north of Taegu near the town of Uihung. Uihung, above Taegu, was occupied Sunday by the Reds when South Korean forces.

TIBET, TARGET FOR CHINESE REDS—Chinese Reds are reported invading Tibet—fabled land of mystery of "Shangri-la"—of the child ruler, the Dalai Lama and of the frowning Himalaya and Kunlun mountains, so cut up by narrow valleys as to make most of country up and down instead of horizontal. So little is actually known of Tibet, that population estimates run from 700,000 to 6,000,000. Religion rules the country and one out of every seven persons is a lama, monk or priest. Tibet's rugged terrain is well-illustrated in this view of Shigatse, the second largest city.

Kates Bay Story Told At Centennial Program

The Kates Bay community on the Garden peninsula Sunday afternoon marked its 100 years of history with a centennial program sponsored by the Kates Bay Grange and the Delta County Historical Society.

Rufus Spaulding, Grange master and descendant of one of the pioneer families of the community, presided at the meeting held in a grove overlooking the shore. About 200 persons, including Historical Society members, attended the outing and program.

Mrs. Bergeson's Paper
One of the most important papers on the history of Kates Bay was prepared by Mrs. Estella Bergeson of Ensign, oldest daughter of the late John Sexton, one of the earliest Kates Bay settlers. Mrs. Bergeson was present for the centennial program yesterday.

In her history of the community, read at the meeting by Harry Greene of Garden, Mrs. Bergeson reported that Kates Bay was settled in the years between 1849 and 1850. A Catholic priest from Paris, France came there to establish a French colony. The colony did not succeed but some of the families stayed on, including the Robette (now Roberts) and Lapala families.

Named for Old Kate

The bay was named by the early settlers for an Indian woman, Old Kate, who lived on the shore and engaged in commercial fishing.

Other papers on Kates Bay history, prepared by other persons interested in the history of the area, were read by C. E. Hawkins of Gladstone, Charles Folio of Escanaba, and Mrs. Elma Mattson, former Stonington resident, who is here on vacation.

Frank Bender Jr., Historical Society president, outlined the objectives of the organization in compiling and preserving the history of the county.

Following the program members of the Kates Bay Grange committee directed Historical Society members on a tour of sites of historical importance, including the old chimney of a cooper's shop built 101 years ago.

Harry Henderson, G. O. P. Candidate, Visits Escanaba

Harry Henderson, member of the Michigan Liquor Control commission and a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, is a visitor in Escanaba this week.

Mr. Henderson attended the Northern Michigan Republican convention in Sault Ste. Marie last week. He came to Escanaba to transact liquor commission business and to attend the Michigan Pharmaceutical association convention.

Mr. Henderson resides in Franklin, a community located about thirty miles from Detroit. For many years, he was engaged in business and industry in Detroit. He retired about three years ago before his appointment by Gov. Kim Sigler to the liquor commission.

The commissioner was the founder of the Henderson Tire company, which operates a chain of tire service stations in Detroit, and the Henderson Tool company. He also had a Ford automobile sales agency in Detroit for some years.

Palsy Clinic Is Slated Sept. 13

One Escanaban To Be Examined

One Escanaba youngster will receive examination in Marquette when Dr. Mayer A. Perlstein of Chicago conducts a cerebral palsy clinic there Sept. 13 and 14, the Delta-Menominee health department revealed today.

The health department reports one Menominee child also will be sent to the clinic. These two are the only ones going this time because a similar clinic is contemplated in Escanaba next spring, the health department reports.

Doctor Perlstein, a member of the National Academy on Cerebral Palsy, is a noted authority in the field. He has conducted similar clinics in Marquette the past few years.

Will Examine 32

Thirty-two children are scheduled to be examined in the clinic. All are referred by family physicians. Miss Marie Dargatz of Marquette, acting nursing administrator for the Michigan Crippled 71, Bark River; David Wallace Campbell, Route 1, Cornell; Kenneth Ned Thuerber, Route 1, Gladstone; Fred W. Jacques, 409 South 7th street, Escanaba; Nicholas Danes, Jr., Ensign, Mich., Route 1; Gerald Joseph Gunville, 1215 Stephenson Ave., Escanaba; John Shirley Provo, 1315 N. 22nd street, Escanaba; Stanley Anthony Panek, Route 2, Bark River, mailed order to Detroit; Clifton Rivard Cletus, 1527 North 18th street, Escanaba, transfer from Menominee county.

Children's commission, is in charge of arrangements. The clinic will be sponsored by the Michigan Society for Crippled Children & Adults, Inc., in cooperation with the Marquette-Alger medical society and the Marquette chapter of the state society.

Percy C. Angove of Detroit, executive director of the state society will be in Marquette for the clinic. Angove is assisting with arrangements for the clinic contemplated here next spring.

Brain Injury Cause
A cerebral palsied child is one badly crippled because of a brain injury. Often sight, speech and hearing are affected. Until a few years ago, persons afflicted with cerebral palsy were much neglected because it was felt little could be done for them. Medical advances in recent years, however, have done much to aid the cerebral palsied.

Clinics are held to give diagnostic assistance and consultation for family physicians attending the patients. The last clinic to be held in Upper Michigan was at Marquette May 4-5, 1949.

A representative from the Delta-Menominee health department and other professional persons interested in cerebral palsy plan to observe at the clinic.

Science Studies Auto Stunt Men

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Stunt men are now helping science. University of California experts wanted to get data on auto collisions. The trouble was that cars do not run into each other where they can be watched. So the experts went to the shows of stunt men who made cars run into each other just to entertain the populace.

From the photographs and other data collected in the study it is hoped to find just what shocks the human body takes during such accidents.

Ferris Institute To Open Sept. 6

BIG RAPIDS—Students from the Escanaba region are today preparing to return to Big Rapids September 4 to enroll for the first full college year of Ferris as a Michigan controlled and operated school. Enrollment is September 4 and 5 and classes in all of the schools will begin September 6.

Although Ferris will offer no new courses this year it will have four additional instructors to handle the anticipated heavy enrollment. Three of these will be in the College of Pharmacy already booked to top capacity with students for the new school year, with one in the College of Commerce which also looks for a new record enrollment.

Degree courses are offered in both Pharmacy and Commerce, with also short courses in various departments of Commerce, secretarial, business administration and salesmanship. Many students are taking preprofessional courses in commerce.

The College Preparatory school will be completely staffed as will all five divisions of the Trades and Industry school, refrigeration, radio and television, watch and clock, architectural engineering and drafting and the two-year course in practical printing, installed late last year.

First activity for the new college season will be football and Coach Robert Sherman and assistant Coach Frank Karas will meet their group of more than 60 candidates at Ferris stadium on Monday, August 28. Seven games are being booked.

Only Four Polio Cases Reported

Last Year There Were Thirty

Two additional polio cases were reported in the Upper Peninsula for the week ending Aug. 18, bringing the total polios in the U. P. to four, it was reported today by the Michigan Department of Health.

This compares to a total of 30 polio cases in the U. P. to a similar date last year, and indicates the possibility that 1950 will pass without a major outbreak of the disease in any U. P. community.

Two cases of polio were reported in Ontonagon county early this year, and two more were reported by the health department for the week ending Aug. 18. One of the last two was in Chippewa county and the other in the city of Marquette.

Last year was one of the worst polio years in history, with 1,010 cases in Michigan to Aug. 19. In 1948 there were only 167 cases to that date, and this year to Aug. 18 the Michigan total was 374 cases.

Philip Wells Dies At Sylvan Point; Funeral Wednesday

Philip Wells, 66, died at 2:15 Sunday afternoon at his Sylvan Point home on Lake Shore drive, after a year's illness.

Mr. Wells was born in Negaunee October 29, 1883. He came to Escanaba as a child. He was employed as a car repairer for the C. & N. W. railroad for 35 years, retiring a year ago when he became ill.

Mr. Wells was a member of St. Ann's church and the Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen.

Surviving are his widow, the former Ella Homer, Escanaba; a brother, Adolph Dunais, Escanaba; a sister Mrs. Jennie Falkner of Detroit.

Friends may call at the Allo funeral home beginning at 2 p. m. Tuesday. Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Ann's chapel. Rev. Fr. Campo will officiate. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

Death Closes Faithful Mickey's 'Seeing Eyes'

Mickey, the seeing-eye guide of S. R. "Sam" Wickman, Escanaba councilman and former mayor, is dead.

For a little more than 11 years Mickey has been Wickman's constant companion. She has attended almost every meeting of any importance in the community during those years, guided her master about the streets on "congestionals" took him safely to and from conferences—and is credited with once saving his life.

Born Dec. 7, 1937, Mickey spent most of her lifetime in Escanaba. Here she became inseparably identified with Sam, who lost his sight in a gun accident a dozen or so years ago.

Saved Sam's Life

A graduate of Seeing Eye, Inc., Morristown, N. J., Mickey there met Sam for the first time. They liked each other and she has been the only guide dog Sam has owned.

Just 10 years ago, on Aug. 23, 1940, Mickey stood her ground in front of oncoming car operated by a drunken driver and thereby saved Sam from injury or death.

It happened at the corner of Ludington and Tenth when Sam then Escanaba mayor, and Mickey were crossing the street. When the oncoming car failed to slow down, Mickey halted abruptly and Sam took his cue from her and stood still. The car brushed past them so close Mickey had to pull her head back from being hit. The driver of the car was intoxicated and the brakes on the car were defective, police reported after the arrest.

Lies Peacefully

A little over a year ago Mickey suffered a stroke. She recovered but her heart was weakened. This year she grew thinner and weaker. For the past month or so Sam took her out only for a walk around the block, mostly for Mickey's benefit.

Last Thursday noon she took to her bed at the Wickman home, 808 South 14th street, and at 11 o'clock that night died peacefully, as if she were sleeping.

She died at the age of 12 years, eight and one-half months, having lived a little longer than the average dog life span.

"Friday was an awful day," said Sam. "I never realized how much I had come to depend on her. Mickey was a good dog."

A successor to Mickey? A guide to help Sam to his meetings and on walks about the city?

"I haven't made up my mind yet," Sam said, still thinking of Mickey. "I have advised them at Seeing Eye, Inc., that Mickey passed away—but I haven't thought too much yet about another dog."

Marquis Childs Reveals Scarcity Of Vital Commodities For War

MARQUIS CHILDS, well known newspaper columnist whose stories and comments of the national scene are published daily in the Escanaba Daily Press, revealed in his column Saturday that American stockpiles of strategic materials are critically low.

This sad bit of news comes as a distinct surprise to the American public. We were caught short of critical materials at the outset of World War II and as a result of that unhappy experience Congress authorized the stockpiling of adequate quantities of vital and hard to obtain materials for emergency use in the future.

Now we learn that less than 40 per cent of the estimates of minimum requirements are actually on hand, although the emergency is already upon us. Marquis Childs is a highly reputable reporter, certainly not an alarmist. His story of the conditions that exist regarding strategic materials undoubtedly is authentic, a completely factual report of the situation as it is.

We are all too familiar with the troubles encountered during the last war in securing the quantities of vital war materials that we needed. The situation may be even more troublesome if a full scale war with Russia develops. The Russians have concentrated upon the construction of submarines, many of them of the long range variety. Moreover, the Russians through their Communist agents all over the world have a spy system that is effective. All of this means that our task in building up supplies of vital materials if and when war comes will be a monumental one.

We had better get on the ball while we still have time and accumulate as much of these vital materials from other lands as we possibly can. The time for complacency is long passed.

Doin' What Comes Unnaturally

THERE was a great to-do down in Houston, Tex., when a pretty young elevator operator at City Hall complained that a middle-aged city councilman kissed her while he was riding in her elevator. The furor seems to have been caused by the fact he was not campaigning for office at the time.

Other Editorial Comments

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE (Sault Ste. Marie News)

The value of any organization to a community is in direct proportion to the activity of its members.

Thus it has been seen, time and again, that any town's most live-wire organization is one in which every member has a job and plays an active part.

This axiom, to some extent, may be applied to Sault Ste. Marie's Chamber of Commerce, which has been accused of lacking in energy.

For more than 60 years Sault Ste. Marie's Chamber of Commerce has served its community in a multitude of fields. Much of its work and activities have been publicized and is well known to the citizens. However the Chamber performs a galaxy of minor tasks which appear and are completely unnoticed. A few of these jobs (which no one else can be expected to perform) include such details as answering hundreds of inquiries as to housing; on the type of weather we have; what churches serve the community, and minor items of this nature.

Of recent years the bulk of work has been assumed by committee chairmen who assiduously perform their duties throughout the year, with monthly interim reports and an annual statement to the membership.

We firmly believe, however, that the work accomplished and the tasks now being performed by the Chamber of Commerce are of supreme value to Sault Ste. Marie.

Like any other community agency, the Chamber of Commerce could improve its program. It is true that the budget should be much bigger.

We suggest that the Chamber appoint a program committee to outline its needs and activities for a year ahead. Such a committee might also bear in mind membership participation and endeavor to provide each member with a specific task.

MORE MCCARTHYISM (Milwaukee Journal)

The staidly conservative and stolidly Republican Saturday Evening Post, the weekly magazine, has now been accused by Senator McCarthy of being a follower of the Communist party line. The magazine recently ran an article that was mildly critical of McCarthy and his campaign against the state department.

The Saturday Evening Post joins a growing company. McCarthy has made like charges against the Washington Post, the New York Post, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, The Milwaukee Journal and several smaller newspapers.

It seems that any newspaper or anybody that disagrees with McCarthy or criticizes him or his methods becomes, in McCarthy's eyes, a follower of the Communist party line.

The Wisconsin senator, by such absurd name calling, is ridiculous.

American girls have tried them all, but the best finishing school remains matrimony.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Every year about vacation time there is a big argument in the Pearson family—not about Senator Taft—but about what to do during our vacation.

The little woman naturally wants to get away from home. For some strange reason she seems to feel she should get away from three meals a day, moths in the piano and musical crickets under the radiator. And with her boy just coming of draft age, she wanted to get off to the Maine woods or the mountains where we could forget about Korea, and the woes of the world.

On the whole I didn't blame her. But being almost as disagreeable in my home as I am to congressmen, I confess that I put up an argument.

"If we go to some beach resort," said I, "the folks in the hotel lobby will be whispering 'There's that fellow that President Truman called a co-ando.' Or nice old ladies will be wanting autographs, and every amateur politician in the place will be claiming he can make predictions better than I can, and will want to stay up all night to prove it."

"In brief," I concluded, "it'll be just like Washington."

"But that's your public," replied Mrs. P., "and you know perfectly well down deep in your heart that you wouldn't be happy without your public. If the little girls and the old ladies in hotel lobbies didn't come up and ask for your autograph you'd think you were slipping."

"Now look," I protested, "we have a nice farm in Maryland with the Potomac River flowing right past our front door. Why should we leave it? Let's forget about gallivanting about the country and take life easy at home."

VACATION COWS

Mrs. P. let out something akin to a snort at this.

"You have a deadline every day with a column seven days a week," she said. "Yet now on your vacation you want to take on two deadlines a day—cows!"

"I realize they have to be milked twice a day," I admitted, referring to my prize bovine friends. "But at least they don't ask for your autograph."

"Besides cows don't talk politics," I continued. "And they don't complain—except when you take their calf away. They don't even worry over what you say about them, the way Senator Byrd of Virginia does. And they don't make long-winded speeches like Congressman Jacobs of Indiana."

Maybe I shouldn't have argued so much. I felt guilty about it afterward. Because in the end we settled for—two deadlines a day.

Usually when it comes to such things as Senator Taft, Mrs. P. wins the argument. But this time she suddenly yielded.

"It's your vacation," she said, "and I guess you're entitled to do what you want. So if you want cows, we'll vacation with the cows."

So we did, and on the whole I think Mrs. P. enjoyed it.

FILLING THE SILO

Of course, she didn't enjoy it when the bull got loose and acted just as bellicose as Senator McCarthy, though his name happens to be Harry Truman. You see, I name the bulls for my various "admirers," one of whom is Senator McKellar. It was with considerable regret this summer that we finally sent Senator McKellar to Baltimore and the sausage factory. I had come to be quite fond of the old senator; but like his namesake from Tennessee, he had become quite ornery, and we had to ship him off.

I admit also that Mrs. P. probably didn't get any vacation thrill over my filling the silo. In the old days when labor was so scarce we had to use German prisoners, she used to help out by driving a truck. But this summer, thanks to a new Holland Forage Crop Harvester, we got the silo filled in no time, and she didn't have to help.

A few years ago, we used to spend a week of backbreaking toil, cutting down corn, stooping over to pick up the bundles, loading it on trucks and feeding it into an ensilage cutter. But this year thanks to the Forage Crop Harvester, the crop was automatically picked up in the field, checked into fine bits, specked into trucks and then blown up into the silo. Instead of twenty men for a week, we used six men for four days. That's what labor-saving machinery has done to the farm.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

PRONUNCIATION CLINIC

Q. I'd like to suggest the word plebiscite for your Pronunciation Clinic. Please tell us about it. Won't you?—Mrs. D. C.

A. A plebiscite is a kind of election. The word is used today to designate the vote by the whole people of a country or political unit to determine any important change in the constitution, sovereignty, or affiliation with another country.

The word plebiscite is pronounced: PLEB-i-scite; or, less frequently and approaching obscurity: PLEB-i-sit. The word stems in the Latin phrase, "the common people."

Another word from plebs is plebian, "of or pertaining to the common people." In ancient Rome, the population was considered as being made up of plebeians (the common people) and aristocrats or patricians. Plebian is pronounced: pli-BEE-un.

At West Point and the Naval Academies, a member of the lowest or freshestman class is called a plebe, pronounced: pleeb.

Gary: I am looking for some substantiation that the word "cute" has meant "bow-legged" at some time or other. This is the subject of a friendly argument.—G. J. E.

A. This same question turns up in my mail regularly. One reader told of an incident in which a Southern girl objected to being photographed in a bathing suit, saying, "Oh, no; I'm too cute. Don't take my picture."

The dictionaries do not record such a meaning; but it unquestionably exists in the colloquial speech of some sections of the country, also I would not have readily said so many questions about the word.

Allies Order German Embargo On Strategic Exports To Red Europe

By EDWARD HUGHES

Staff Correspondent of The Wall Street Journal
FRANKFURT—Allied occupation authorities here have ordered a new and drastic crackdown on shipments of strategic and industrial goods from West Germany to Russia's Eastern European satellites.

This may be the first important step in a coordinated U. S.-Western Europe drive to keep such goods out of Russian hands.

In Paris, a study is under way to set up a "universal" list of restricted items. The U. S. and Western Europe—presumably including West Germany—would be expected to abide by this list.

If this goes through, it will amount to economic sanctions against the Communist part of the world.

New Order Coming

In the last few days, the American-British-French control group in Frankfurt has issued a confidential order bluntly cancelling the practically unlimited authority the German federal government was granted over exports of ball bearings and synthetic rubber compounds three months ago. The Germans don't know it yet, but the Allied High Commission is also planning to issue another order further restricting the Bonn government's control over the export of "strategic" commodities, including nonferrous metals and products and possibly scrap iron and steel.

Allied officials are angry at the Bonn government. In the past 90 days it has permitted a flood of ball bearings, machinery, rubber compounds and metals to pour eastward to Russian-controlled Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria.

This is considered a bold violation of instructions issued when Allied controls were relaxed May 19. Until that date German exporters and manufacturers were required to submit requests for the export of strategic war materials goods to an Allied export control working party for screening before actual shipment. This board imposed tight restrictions on shipments to East Europe.

Commodities on a small secret list must still get Allied approval before export, but the shipment of a large number of items of lesser strategic importance was removed from Allied "prior scrutiny" and turned over to Bonn for screening. Under this May 19 directive, Bonn is required to see to it that shipment of these items eastward is not "substantial" in quantity.

Wanted Tight Control
"We had hoped the German government would take this job off our hands and keep a tight control on eastern exports," says an Allied official. He adds dryly: "This hope has not borne fruit."

That's why Allied High Commission officials decided recently to take over the control of many of these items after a series of meetings here two weeks ago.

German officials who have learned of the Allied orders are badly vexed. They charge discrimination in such matters will cripple the German economy. The Germans point to the fact that many of these restricted items can be purchased by Eastern European countries at will in Britain and France.

"Why should we lose this business to the vicious Allies?" the Germans ask.
Allied officials admit it's unjust. They contend, however, the discrimination against Germany will soon be removed when the U. S.-Western Europe super-list of restricted items now being worked out in Paris is completed.

At any rate, the increase in West German east-bound exports of potential war materials—as they're classified by the Allies—has been astounding.

"In the first 21 days after the export-control authority was handed over to the Germans," says a High Commission official, "more ball bearings and rubber compounds were shipped to East Europe than in the entire previous five months when the control was in Allied hands."

Shipments Up Tenfold
No figures are yet available for July and it is difficult to find comparable figures for the earlier part of this year. But some June statistics show the trend. According to the German government's own figures, the shipment of ball bearings and roller bearings to five satellites during June increased tenfold over the May figure.

Look at rubber compounds. Bulgaria received $81,000 worth in June this year after getting none in May or in the previous year. The total West German rubber compound shipments to five Eastern European puppets in June was $120,000 worth, which is double the May figure.

Carbon black, important rubber compound, chemical agent, was shipped out of West Bulgaria and Rumania during June to the tune of $23,000, with most of it going to Hungary and a bit to Czechoslovakia. In May just $1,000 worth of carbon black went to these nations. In the entire previous year, none at all was shipped to them.

Barium compound, lead compound, sodium compound and nickel compound moved in this West-East pattern in the amount of $52,000 during May. This more than doubled in June to $127,000. Crude iron and pig iron and semi-finished iron goods increased from $30,000 in May to $854,000 in June. The comparable figures for April are not available, but officials say shipments in that month were much lower than in either May or June.

More Increases
In June shipments of these products to the Czechs tripled. In May volume, those to the Rumanians doubled. The June shipments of steel pipe to Hungary were five times the May level, while electrical equipment exports to the same satellites increased seven times.

Allied officials are not sure yet how tight they'll pull the knot on German exports to the East, but they plan to send their recent restrictive order to Bonn in the next week or two. Under this expected order, as well as under the terms of the first order sent a few days ago, all applications for shipments of restricted items must again be sent to the High Commission before approval and shipment. The Allies will select a large number of these applications, it's said.

The problem facing officials is how to set a hard and fast rule governing the shipments. What makes a commodity "strategic" is not all too clear, and neither can they plan to send their recent restrictive order to Bonn in the next week or two. Under this expected order, as well as under the terms of the first order sent a few days ago, all applications for shipments of restricted items must again be sent to the High Commission before approval and shipment. The Allies will select a large number of these applications, it's said.

of the items on the secret restricted list in "substantial quantity." "What is substantial quantity depends on the time and place," this official explains cryptically.

He makes it clear, however, that shipments permitted by Bonn in the past 50 days have definitely been "substantial." He further alleges the German government has indulged in a skulduggery to conceal the size of some individual orders from the High Commission's prying eyes. The High Commission recently discovered one application for a very large shipment to the East had been broken down into several small applications and approved by the German government.

Fast Taxis

Dear Editor:

No one will question that taxis perform a necessary service in Escanaba, but assuredly, no one agrees that such service requires "cabbies" to race up and down streets, without regard for other motorists and pedestrians.

Several times in the past week I have observed taxicabs traveling in excess of the speed limit set for residential and business districts. If an older driver should be crossing a street, or a child should wander into traffic, when a cab driver is racing by, I dread to think of the consequences.

Recently I took a cab to a friend's house on the outskirts of town, after the night rate was in effect. In no time flat, I was there. For the cab driver traveled 70 miles per hour most of the way.

When asked if that rate of travel was not excessive, the cab driver brushed off the word of caution, saying, "There's nobody around anyway." He hoped!

The only satisfactory solution to this problem is, naturally, cooperation from taxicab drivers. If this cannot be obtained, then the only other alternative is arrest by law enforcement officials, before someone is seriously injured. If necessary, the driver's license can be revoked, if the offenses are repeated.

A new state ruling, I understand, empowers judges to revoke motorist's licenses for a prescribed period of time, if they repeatedly violate speed laws. If such a ruling is necessary for control of taxicab drivers, it only by virtue of the fact that they spend more time behind the wheel than an average motorist.

Concerned.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

DRAMA OF DEATH—Many people find a morbid fascination in violent deaths.

These are the people who wait for hours while lifeguards drag for the body, stand open-mouthed in the city street while a crazed girl perches on a window ledge, and collect like flies at the scene of an automobile accident.

It is necessary to distinguish between the curious and the people who rush to an accident scene to assist the injured. The latter are motivated by a desire to save life; the former by an inclination to stare and be shocked.

We remark on this subject in connection with the recent death of two truck drivers in a railroad crossing crash in Delta county.

IN THE NEWS—It is the job of the newspaper to present information concerning the many facts of life—and death.

If some of the stories shock the sensitive reader it is because the facts themselves are shocking. Death is the final and often dramatic conclusion to life. It is of importance if for no other reason than the compilation of vital statistics.

As a reporter we were at the truck-train accident scene before the wreckage had been removed. It may give you some insight into the psychology of the crowd to tell you that the state police numerous times ordered some of the people back from a canvas-covered body on the ground.

When the state police lifted a corner of the canvas so the coroner could view the body there was an intake of breath, a gasp from the crowd. It was the climax of morbidity.

LOWERING THE SCREEN—Authorities make an effort to prevent the sensation-seeker from satisfying his curiosity. Police order back the crowds that gather at the scene of violent deaths. They try to keep the bodies covered and remove them without attracting attention.

In one drowning accident at Escanaba a couple years ago the officers who recovered the body took it by boat to another dock, rather than to the nearby shore where a crowd estimated at nearly a thousand had assembled.

The newspaper also draws a discreet line between reporting the facts and giving gory details. All too often the facts are sufficiently gruesome without painting word pictures.

It is the responsibility of the newspaper to inform the reader, not entertain the morbid.

DEATHS IN WAR—Sometimes this conservative approach to violent death is on a national scale.

The folks back home are adequately informed of the progress of the war in Korea, but they are not told in detail of the deaths of our service men. The exception may be in the case of outstanding heroism in combat, where the individual's deeds in defense of his country are an integral part of the story of his heroic death.

Readers should also know that reports of war casualties are issued by the military only after careful consideration of the effect of the reports upon the war effort and national security.

The dramatization of death on the battlefield usually is not conducive to enlightenment.

PRIVATE AFFAIR—Death is a very personal matter for the individual, but sometimes it is of great public interest. The assassination of President Lincoln, the execution of Christ are dramatic in the extreme.

For the average private citizen, death is a shadow passing from life, unaccompanied by violence or headlines or the fame that recalls the martyr.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Gladstone—Mrs. Henry Abrahamson, Cedarville, Wash., is visiting with her brother, John Hult, at Beaver Dam. The occasion is a happy one for it is the first time in 35 years, since parting in 1905, that they have seen each other.

Parline—Mrs. Violet Patterson of Perkins left Monday for Des Moines, Iowa, where she will represent Michigan on the committee to notify vice-presidential nominee Henry A. Wallace of his nomination, at the ceremony there August 29.

Lanning—A postcard with a Potosky postmark and the usual vacation message of "having a fine time and wish you were here" today told state department of agriculture workers where their apple queen had been, but didn't tell them how to reach her. State police joined in the search for the girl, Miss Jean Doty, 19, of Blenheim, a slender dark-haired stenographer, whom fellow workers had chosen to preside as queen at the agriculture department's apple booth in the Michigan State Fair.

20 YEARS AGO

Saginaw—Six youths alleged to have tarred and feathered a 63-year-old neighbor whom they suspected of stealing produce from their farms are facing charges of felonious assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Escanaba—Mrs. W. W. Oliver, Lake Shore Drive, her mother, Mrs. M. A. Simmons, her sister, Mrs. Gertrude Moran and Miss Elizabeth Moran of Long Beach, Cal., plan to leave during the early part of the week on a trip through the east.

Escanaba—Visiting a part of the country almost entirely new to him and making the acquaintance of relatives here, many of whom he had never seen, George Poirier of Seattle, Wash., spent an enjoyable 10 day visit in Escanaba as a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dery.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick F. Royce, 220 South Fourth street, have returned from a 4,000 mile motor trip through the Black Hills of South Dakota and south through Yellowstone National Park and the Teton Mountain National Forest of Wyoming.

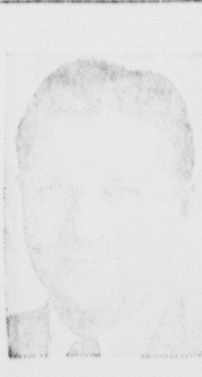

Bookcase?

By Gordon Martin

It's supposed to be a bookcase and was made for books alone, but besides some books, it shelters many other things you own. It's a catch-all for assorted junk the household wants to hoard, and it yields forgotten items every time that it's explored. When you idly up the bookcase, you're amazed at what you find, even though its bulging shelves were for your books alone designed.

In behind a dusty volume in a row of classic books, is a long-departed envelope that's full of fishing hooks. And still farther in a corner, where your eyesight it evades, is a thing for which you've often searched—a missing ace of spades. Old receipts and scores of bridge games, recipes and bits of yarn, arms of dolls and ample linens—nothing there that's worth a darn.

And just look what comes to light behind that row of Kipling's tales—it's a section from a paper advertising last year's sales. Extra car keys, Sister's mittens, and a placecard for your wife, and it's news you've got for Junior—there's his long-lost pocketknife. It's supposed to be a bookcase but you think the name's the bunk, for besides your books it's always full of many kinds of junk.

Aid Of Sports Clubs Sought

Groups Can Help In Fire Control

Organized sportsmen's clubs can make a definite contribution to Michigan's forest fire control program.

With the conservation department's forest fire service protecting about 20,500,000 of the state's nearly 36,500,000 acres, and each fire officer responsible for an average of 200,000 acres each, the need for the support of every person interested in the outdoors should not be underestimated.

The remaining land area of the state is taken up by cities, villages and farms, or is protected by the United States forest service.

An active club can tread two avenues of action—prevention and suppression. Prevention program can be carried on by a club, regardless of its location, and without taking too much of any one member's time. Suppression is more time consuming and the value of this type of program depends on club location and availability of members when needed. The latter calls for organizing, training and actual functioning of a fire fighting crew.

Importance of a club's prevention program, whether it includes posters, magazine reminders and speakers, as well as direct individual action, is realized when it is pointed out that about 98 per cent of all Michigan forest and grass fires are man-caused. Most up-state clubs now take some sort of active part in fire suppression. They cooperate in emergency periods by providing conservation department fire officers with fire fighting crews.

Negaunee Engages New City Manager

NEGAUNEE — City Manager Henry L. Levens, accepting appointment to that position Thursday night, has wasted no time in taking up the duties of the office.

He conferred with department heads Friday morning and met city employees.

During the day he disposed of several business matters and was helping to arrange office space on the second floor of the city hall building. He told the council Thursday night his office would be open to the citizens of Negaunee at all times.

Yesterday afternoon Manager Levens said he planned to spend the weekend in Negaunee working on city matters.

He had found living quarters and plans to move his family here from Ironwood before school opens.

Are Hurt In Collision

Auto Crash Occurs At Cooks Junction

Six people were injured in a three-car collision one-fourth mile east of Cooks Junction on U.S.-2 at 10:15 Sunday evening.

The injured are: Walter W. Lackis, of Arizona, suffering from arm and internal injuries.

Mrs. Lackis, severe face lacerations and possible internal chest injuries.

Richard Stanislawski, 36, Stanley Lyskowski, 48, Donald Lyskowski, all of Menominee, cuts and bruises.

Mabel Bloomquist, 39, Pontiac, paralysis from waist down.

All are in state of extreme shock. They are being treated at Schooncraft Memorial hospital at Manistique.

Alvin Rudolph Bloomquist, 42, and Rex Todd, 43, both of Pontiac, escaped without injury.

State police of the Manistique post who are investigating the accident were unable to determine how it happened because of the dazed condition of two of the drivers, Walter W. Lackis and Donald Lyskowski, whose cars met head-on and were badly damaged.

Alvin Rudolph Bloomquist, 42, driver of the third car, told state police that his car was sideswiped by one of the other autos. The Bloomquist car was found some distance from the other two.

U. P. Drug Convention Now Underway Here

Members of the U. P. division of the Michigan Pharmaceutical association opened their 16th annual convention here today, and to noon 170 Upper Michigan druggists and drug dealers had registered.

Mayor Peter N. Logan of Escanaba delivered the address of welcome at the opening session this afternoon, following a buffet dinner at the Hotel, Joseph D. Cota of Escanaba, president of the division, delivered the response.

Business at the opening meeting included introduction of members of the state board of pharmacy by Leslie W. Olson of Escanaba, convention chairman. Secretary's reports were given by E. H. Melstrom of Iron River and treasurer's reports by W. J. Hebbard of Ishpeming.

O. K. Grettenberger, director of drugs and drug stores for the Michigan Board of Pharmacy, and John H. Butts, executive secretary of the state pharmaceutical association, were among afternoon speakers.

C. E. Siddall of Manistique this afternoon was to lead a discussion of practical problems. J. D. Cota appointed nominating and resolutions committees and C. R. Johnson of Gladstone presented a report from delegates to the state convention.

Pharmacy Exams
J. W. Lansdowne, assistant manager of the department of trade relations and advertising for Eli Lilly and company, will speak on current retail drug trends, and F. J. Dohmen of the F. Dohmen company of Milwaukee will discuss fair trade at the noon session tomorrow.

H. W. Adkins, executive vice president of Yahr-Lange Inc., will be guest speaker at the president's banquet tomorrow night at Terrace Gardens. Election of officers will take place Tuesday afternoon.

Sixty graduates of Michigan pharmacy colleges will write state board examinations while the convention is underway here.

Truman Signs Old Age Bill

Law Adds 10 Million To Pension Rolls

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman today signed the revised social security bill adding approximately 10,000,000 persons to the old age pension rolls.

The White House indicated there would be a statement later.

Mr. Truman, who expressed strong objections to one part of the measure as it went through Congress. That is a provision limiting the power of the secretary of labor to cut off unemployment insurance funds from states whose systems he holds do not conform to federal standards.

The billions of additional workers will come under the old age benefit program and begin paying payroll taxes next January 1.

Persons now retired will start getting bigger checks a few weeks hence, in October.

The new law also more than doubles payroll taxes over the next 20 years, to help pay for the larger benefits. The payroll taxes will increase from $2,500,000,000 this year to about $7,800,000,000 in 1970.

Accidents Kill 22 In Michigan

Five Persons Dead In One Collision

(By The Associated Press)

Twenty-two persons came to their deaths violently over the weekend in Michigan.

Motor traffic again was the chief killer, taking 18 lives.

In one auto crash five persons lost their lives and the only survivor was a seven-year-old boy.

In addition there were two drownings, one fatality from lightning, and one from gunfire.

The crash which caused five deaths was a two-car collision on U.S.-24 near Flat Rock, south of Detroit, early Sunday.

Seven-year-old Nelson Groters of Detroit was the sole survivor. His parents, Bert Groters, 45, and Mrs. Pearl Groters, 32, were killed.

A companion of the Groters family, Mrs. Olive La Prue, 32, of Detroit, also lost her life, as did the two passengers of the other car, Eugene West, 21, and John H. Chesney, 29, both of Monroe.

State police said that Chesney, driver of the second car, made an abrupt U-turn on the highway and was hit broadside by the Groters' car.

Lightning killed Cecil Aloma, 26-year-old Mexican field laborer, as he was covering a truckload of beans with a canvas Saturday.

The drowning victim was 12-year-old Allen Herling of Saginaw. He fell off a pier at Round Lake near Charlevoix while fishing Saturday night alone.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Herling, had visited Charlevoix for repairs to the family yacht.

James Purcell, 34, of Bay City, was killed on U.S.-27 near Noughton Lake Saturday as his oil truck and an automobile collided. The oil truck burned.

From the third inning on in the opener, the game was played under protest by Toledo manager Eddie Mayo. Catcher Joe Ginsberg was spiked on a play at the plate. Johnny McCall, who was on second, came in as an onlooker. He was first called out but then ruled safe on the grounds time was out.

Manny Fernandez singled with the bases full in the first round of the nightcap to give Frank Papish a two-run cushion on his 10th victory. St. Paul shaded Minneapolis in a single contest 7-6. Kirby Higbe was the loser.

Columbus remained in third place 3 1/2 games behind the Millers and 3 1/2 games ahead of Louisville by splitting with the Colonels. Harvey Haddix tossed an eight-hitter to take the starter 2-0 for the Red Birds. Louisville won the second 3-0 behind the six-hit job of Jim Suchecki.

Kansas City blanked Milwaukee 8-0 on Sid Schacht's 6-hitter, but the Brewers grabbed the afterpiece 8-4.

Construction Game Changes Over Years

EDMONTON, Alta.—(AP)—Steel girders didn't move as fast to the job when they were building the MacDonald hotel here 38 years ago as they are moving today toward the hotel's 300-room extension. Joseph Smith had a hand in both jobs. Today he is moving the steel by truck from the railway yard—38 years ago he hauled all of it with horses and oxen.

Polio Wards Busy

MUSKEGON — (AP) — Eight nurses from Oceana county hospital reported to Hackley hospital here today to assist in treatment of polio patients. Seventeen victims were in the isolation ward at Hackley after six in the convalescent section there. Muskegon county's 1950 polio victims total 26, with 19 of them discovered this month.

Huge Money Bill Clears in Senate

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate cleared the right of way today for a $35,554,000,000 money bill carrying funds to run the government this year. Leaders predicted prompt approval to send the measure to the White House.

Trailing behind it was an emergency defense bill providing $16,771,000,000 in addition to the $14,630,000,000 in military funds in the regular appropriations measure. The emergency bill, passed by the House Saturday, would provide 5,333 new planes and other equipment to fight the Korean war and build up the nation's military strength.

Military Funds Delayed

The Senate Appropriations committee expects to have the emergency measure ready for Senate action late in the week. Behind it—but probably delayed until January—will come proposals for an estimated $10,000,000,000 more in military funds.

In advance of Senate consideration of the regular money bill, providing money for the year which started July 1, chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) called the appropriations group together (9 a. m., EST) to see what could be done about House action to kill the Senate-House watchdog com-

Doctor Fredrickson Visits Local Club

Members of the Escanaba Kiwanis club will make preliminary plans for their annual Kiwanis Minstrel show at a meeting to be held at the House of Ludington Thursday evening.

Dr. Gereon Fredrickson, Iron Mountain, lieutenant governor of the Upper Peninsula district of Kiwanis International, made an official visit to the Escanaba club at its meeting to-

Dr. Fredrickson day.

W. H. Hildebrand was appointed chairman of the committee which will make arrangements for the annual club picnic.

At the induction of new members, Dr. K. F. Harrington reviewed the history of Kiwanis International, which was organized in 1914 and now has 3,180 clubs and 200,501 members in the United States and Canada.

Minneapolis Slips, Indianapolis Eyes Lead In Association

(By The Associated Press)

Minneapolis' American Association lead dwindled to one game in the face of Indianapolis' third straight doubleheader sweep and a seven game winning streak.

The warping Indians, erstwhile leaders, downed Toledo 8-6 and 4-2 in a Sunday bargain bill although being outlived 15-6 and 8-6. And they were given 12 walks in the opener, all figuring in the scoring.

From the third inning on in the opener, the game was played under protest by Toledo manager Eddie Mayo. Catcher Joe Ginsberg was spiked on a play at the plate. Johnny McCall, who was on second, came in as an onlooker. He was first called out but then ruled safe on the grounds time was out.

Manny Fernandez singled with the bases full in the first round of the nightcap to give Frank Papish a two-run cushion on his 10th victory. St. Paul shaded Minneapolis in a single contest 7-6. Kirby Higbe was the loser.

Kansas City blanked Milwaukee 8-0 on Sid Schacht's 6-hitter, but the Brewers grabbed the afterpiece 8-4.

NICE, France — (AP) — Police say an Italian youth has confessed stealing some $57,000 in jewels from the home of Mrs. Norman Winston near Cannes on Aug. 5.

They said the man, identified as Dante Spada, 23, had confessed to 11 burglaries along the French Riviera in recent months.

No charge has yet been filed against Spada in connection with the Winston burglary in which Elsa Schiaparelli, Paris modiste, and Mrs. Ernest Gates, wife of a British conservative member of parliament, reported losing gems. Some of the jewels have been recovered.

Police said Spada entered the home of Mrs. Winston, wife of a New York plastics manufacturer, by scaling a wall. They said he walked along a narrow ledge until he found an open window, then searched the rooms for jewelry. He escaped by the same route.

Woman On Stretcher Leaps To Death At Hospital In Detroit

DETROIT—(AP)—A 20-year-old woman being wheeled from a hospital operating room jumped from a wheeled-stretcher and leaped to her death from the fourth floor last night.

She was Lorraine Reed, a Negro who had undergone an emergency operation for multiple stab wounds in the neck and chest.

Before her leap, police quoted the woman as telling them she was stabbed by Calvin Torrey, 69, who was admitted to the hospital for treatment of head wounds. He said he fought the woman in self-defense.

Big Uranium Deposit Discovered In Britain

LONDON — (AP)—The British government has announced discovery of the largest single deposit—perhaps a million of tons—of uranium located in the British Isles.

The ministry of supply said the ore, in northern Wales, is of "extremely low yield." The ministry hinted exploitation might not be feasible.

The department of scientific and industrial research, however, said the ore is "in no way inferior" to deposits being worked by the Russians in east Germany.

The scientists calculated the ore would yield 80 grams (less than three ounces) per ton.

Cretan Beauty Hides In Hills With Lover To Defy Family Feud

HERAKLEION, Crete—(AP)—A 19-year-old Cretan beauty and her lover remained hidden in the fastness of ancient Mount Ida today, defying warnings that they might revive the bloody feud that has split their families for generations.

She is Stassoula, raven-haired daughter of a liberal member of Greece's parliament, George Petracogeorgi. He is Constantine, brother of Manuel Kephalyannis, populist member of parliament.

The two have been secretly in love for some time, but because of the political split between their two families, no one has tried to arrange a marriage.

Last Tuesday, Constantine decided to act on his own. With five armed comrades, he stopped Stassoula, her sister and brother-in-law as they emerged from the movies in Herakleion's main square. While the confederates held the sister and her husband, Constantine and the willing Stassoula escaped in an automobile.

Constantine's brother, Manuel, and representatives of Stassoula's family have contacted the couple hiding out in caves on lofty Mount Ida, legendary birthplace of the God Zeus.

Manuel warned Stassoula: "My girl, you have lighted a fire which will burn our houses for 100 years. All of us will be exterminated. Your father has sent men to catch you dead or alive. It is your duty to abide by your father's wishes."

"You may go if you wish," Constantine said to Stassoula. She paused a moment, then said firmly:

"No, I'll stay here. I'll bear the responsibility. Please tell my father to give me his blessing."

When Manuel pleaded with his brother to send the girl back, Constantine refused.

"You should know the girl will stay with me. We'll kill ourselves if necessary."

Both families are powerful and can command hundreds of supporters. Cretans say there is sure to be bloodshed unless some miraculous reconciliation is effected.

Rail Strike Still Cripples Canada As Negotiations Fail

OTTAWA, Canada—(AP)—Transport-crippled Canada remained today in the grip of a rail strike that threatened to last at least another three days, following the week-end collapse of negotiations.

The government made it clear it plans no further steps until it brings in emergency legislation to end the week-end strike at a special session of parliament called for Tuesday.

This announcement was made after Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent received a personal report from union leaders on breakdown of negotiations with the companies Saturday night.

Bail Revoked

NEW YORK—(AP)—The U. S. court of appeals today revoked the bail of the 11 convicted Communist leaders and gave them 30 days to try to stay their jail terms.

ces retreated.

American big guns smashed up another Red try for a foothold on the east bank of the Nakdong six miles southwest of Changnyong, where the Communists tried desperately to hold a crossing 10 days ago.

The artillery caught a Red force trying to throw another Russian-type underwater bridge across the river and dispersed it, killing or wounding half of the force.

The heavy guns and allied warplanes during Monday cut down the Reds and inflicted casualties all along the allied river barrier.

Weekend strikes by navy carrier planes far up the North Korean east coast, netted the biggest kill of the war for the such craft.

A navy operations summary reported pilots found and destroyed 11 new Russian-type Yak fighter planes on the ground at Yonpo.

The Yaks were covered with camouflage but were spotted and destroyed in strafing runs.

This was the largest single group of fighter aircraft discovered in many weeks in North Korea.

The largest crop of sugar beets since 1942, and second largest crop in history, also are forecast.

The only major exception from the general picture of plenty in Michigan is the field bean harvest.

Hard hit in some areas by excessive rainfall that also damaged the wheat and hay crops, it will be about 16 per cent below average.

What makes this plenty even more impressive is that a high quantity crop usually is a high quality one.

Lorraine Larson
Bride, Wedding
In Milwaukee

Miss Lorraine Larson of Milwaukee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Larson, Escanaba Route One, and Jack E. Zipfel of Milwaukee were married at 9 Saturday, August 19, in Holy Angels' church rectory, Milwaukee. Father Schiffer performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride attendants were the bride's sister, Mrs. John Nikolaus, jr., of West Allis and Robert Zipfel of Milwaukee, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a white slipper satin gown made with a tight bodice, lace trimmed net yoke, long tapering sleeves and a full skirt which extended into a lace trimmed train. Her fingertip veil was caught to a coronet of pearls. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls, the bridegroom's gift. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli, centered with an orchid. The matron of honor wore a yellow taffeta gown styled like the bride's and a halo of white mums and baby ferns. She carried pink baby roses and baby ferns.

Both mothers wore seasonal print rayon dresses with white background and corsages of yellow roses and white mums.

The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bridegroom's parents and a dinner for immediate family members at the Chalet on the Lake.

The newlyweds who are honeymooning in Northern Wisconsin and also will spend a week at the home of the bride's parents, will live in Milwaukee at 4227 North 13th street. The bride, a graduate of Escanaba high school, was assistant bookkeeper for the Hoyer Baking Co., before going to Milwaukee where she is employed in the shipping department of Allis Chalmers. The bridegroom is with the Seaman Body Works in Milwaukee.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to offer our heartfelt thanks for the kindness and sympathy extended to us at the time of our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved husband, father and brother. We are particularly grateful to those who sent floral bouquets, offered autos for the services, to the Rev. Parker of Gwin and Mr. Homer Story of Trenary for their comforting words, to Mrs. Albert Cauchon and Mrs. Homer Story for their beautiful songs, to the pallbearers and all others who by word or deed assisted us at this time. The memory of these kindnesses will long remain with us.

Pupils Make Shoes From Inner Tubes

GLENDAL, Calif.—(AP)—If fathers of children in the R. D. White Elementary School find the inner tubes missing from their car tires, they can blame it on teacher, Mrs. C. Juanita McGowan, handicraft superintendent, has the children making beach and play shoes out of inner tubes.

The shoes are sewed with yarn but fastened with metal clips at strategic points and decorated with wooden beads. Cost of the shoes is nominal, the teacher pointed out, since the material comes from discarded old tubes.

Council Ponders Weighty Matters

Tonight's Session
Is Important One

Decision on a number of matters of more than ordinary importance is expected at the regular meeting of the city council this evening.

Chief among these will be the conclusion of matters having to do with the purchase of a new fire truck. Virtual agreement on the purchase was arrived at an informal meeting of the council last Monday when the council decided to purchase a LaFrance truck. A number of details remained to be worked out before a final decision could be arrived at.

Widening of Walnut street between Cedar and Maple streets, will be discussed and probably acted upon. The street has been given a preliminary survey and a proposal will be made to the council to have boulevarding on both sides of the street, a project which will necessitate the removal of a number of trees. This street is much used and when cars are parked on both sides of the street, there is a serious traffic hazard.

An extensive blacktopping program for a number of the city's streets will also be discussed. The cost of the project has not as yet been fully determined and action may be deferred for that reason, but a proposal involving a special assessment will be discussed.

Cities Demand Room For Auto Parking

CHICAGO—(AP)—The American Society of Planning Officials reports a growing trend toward building plans that include room for parking automobiles. It cites these recent examples:

A zoning amendment recently approved by the New York City Planning Commission requires that garage or parking space in varying degrees must be provided with nearly all types of housing constructed in the future. Under the zone change, apartment houses of more than 40 units erected in the city's densely populated areas must have garage or parking space equal to one-fifth of the number of units.

Under a plan being considered in Louisville all new apartments, schools, churches, retail stores, hospitals and many other types of buildings would have to provide off-street parking facilities.

Brushes which can be attached to a garden hose have been devised for washing automobiles.

Zion Lutheran Church Observes 65th Year Of Work And Service

Glowing tribute to the men and women who founded Manistique's Zion Lutheran church was paid Sunday morning by Dr. J. O. Bersell, president of Augsburgia Ev. Lutheran church, who delivered the sermon at the local church services.

The occasion for the tribute was the observation of the sixty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the local congregation, and Dr. Bersell, who has been a summer visitor here since his youth, spoke from personal acquaintance and experience.

Manistique, when he first knew it, was a frontier town and the members of Zion Lutheran church were a pioneer people he told his hearers. They had to toil hard to make a living and keep up their church. He stated that he looked back upon those days with nostalgia. These old pioneer people, he said, taught the knowledge of God better than a seminary.

Tells About Europe
Dr. Bersell's talk dealt largely with his experience in Europe. It was only last Thursday that he embarked from Zurich, Switzerland and arrived late Saturday evening in Manistique. Much of the time in the last several months has been spent in scenes behind the Iron Curtain and in zones adjacent to it.

He said that he had seen human misery that was beyond words to describe. He stated that there was plenty of evidence of religious persecution in Bohemia and Jugoslavia, but those who are threatened with loss of their heritage of religious liberty now know how to value it. He said he never heard singing that could compare in beauty and religious fervor with that voiced by the people of Czechoslovakia.

The good clothes that American people have donated to the destitute of Europe, he said, have been a wonderful prop to the morale of the people. Recipients, whom he met asked him to thank the American people for this generosity.

Notes Encouraging Signs
The situation is not altogether hopeless, he said. At the base of the mountain where Hitler had his castle, an old folks home, housing 500 destitute old people is being maintained. And where the Nazis maintained their chief arboreal, a Boys' Town, patterned after Father Flanagan's famous institute, is being conducted.

He expressed deep concern for America's future, citing present tendencies to take religion lightly and live ways that are not the ways of God.

Oldest Confirmation Unrecorded
The Rev. G. A. Herbert, pastor of the church, gave a brief history of the congregation which he

Lake Linden Woman Injured

Was In Car Crash
Early Sunday A. M.

Mrs. George Beveridge, of Lake Linden, was seriously injured when two cars, one driven by Mrs. Clarence Dupuis, of Lake Linden, and the other driven by Russell Fagan, met head-on in the early hours of Sunday morning.

The crash occurred about two o'clock in the morning at the intersection of Deer street and Houghton avenue. According to the police report, Mrs. Dupuis was driving east and Fagan was heading west. Fagan claims that he made a left turn into the opposite traffic lane to avoid crashing with a car entering the highway from North Houghton street. In so doing the two cars met head-on.

Mrs. Beveridge, in the Dupuis car, suffered a broken knee cap and other cuts and bruises. Fagan was badly cut about the face.

Mrs. Dupuis was driving a 1943 Oldsmobile sedan, owned by her father, William Bonifas of Isabella. The Fagan car was a 1941 Chevrolet. Both cars were badly wrecked.

Hughes Motors Wins Upper Peninsula Class B Softball Title

Paper Mill And Clairmonts Lose Championship Games

The Hughes Motors softball team of Escanaba won the Class B championship of the Upper Peninsula at Ironwood Sunday, defeating Calumet Liberty Loans in the finals, 4-3.

Ray Oseen was the hero of the Hughes victory in the championship game. The Escanabans were trailing, 3-1, in the seventh inning when Oseen banged a home run with two mates aboard to provide the victory margin.

Escanaba teams also played in the finals of both the Class A and the Class C tournament. The Escanaba Paper company lost to Holmgren Motors of Negaunee, 14 to 2, in the Class A final and Clairmont Transfer of Escanaba lost to Ishpeming C.Y.O., 15-4, in the finals of the Class C tournament.

The Hughes Motor team qualified to play in the state tournament at Lansing next weekend. They drew a first round bye and will play in the second round at 2:30 o'clock Sunday.

The tournament scores involving Escanaba and Gladstone teams follow:

Class A, first round

Russian Track Team Wins European Title

BRUSSELS — (AP) — Russia's track and field team closed out the European championships by winning their only track event of the five-day meet and with it the unofficial team title.

An Associated Press count gave Russia 112 points compared with 108 for Great Britain, which won eight titles. Russia had six firsts in all, the other five coming in field events.

France, winning four titles, was third with 107 points. British athletes dominated the last day's activities yesterday, capturing four finals.

A crowd of 20,000 gave the Soviets a big hand as balding Nikolai Karakulov, anchor man of the 400 meter relay team, overhauled the leaders on the last leg and hit the tape in 41.5 seconds.

The Russian success gave rise to speculation that the Soviets might compete in the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki. In recent years they have avoided international competition.

Bark River, Stephenson Again

It'll be Bark River and Stephenson again in the playoffs for the Tri-County league baseball championships. The first game of a best out of three series will be played next Sunday at Bark River.

Bark River defeated Hermansville yesterday, 4 to 2, and Stephenson erased Perronville, 7 to 6, in a 10-inning battle at Perronville.

Ray Menard had a shutout for Bark River going into the ninth inning but he fired. Menard was removed after three successive singles got him into trouble. Ben Kleiman relieved Menard with none out and uncorked a wild pitch that let in the second Hermansville run. Kleiman got the range at that point, however, and retired the side without further scoring.

Petty Family Takes Vandalia Shoot Honors

By FRITZ HOWELL
VANDALIA, O. — (AP) — You may have your Daniel Boones, Annie Oakleys and Buffalo Bills! If we want any shooting done, we'll call on the Pettys of Arkansas to do it for us.

There are four of the Pettys—Mr. and Mrs. Julius of Stuttgart, Ark. and John and Paul of England, Ark. No family ever dominated the shooting scene as the three Pettys have and the Petty girl—she's that pretty—did the 51st Grand American trapshoot completed Saturday.

Julius, 39, and Paul, 37, won the brother-brother championship with 197 of 200 from 16 yards. Julius also won the all-around championship with 392 of 400 on 200 targets at 16 yards, 100 at handicaps and 100 doubles. His 97 won the national doubles title.

His 99 of 100 in the Grand American handicap was the best in 51 years from the 25-yard mark, the extreme handicap distance, but a 100 straight by Oscar Scherer of Belleville, Ill., from 19 yards ruined Julius' chance of winning trapshooting's biggest prize.

Oddly, Julius missed 14 of the "easy" 600 targets at 16 yards, but no one has ever approached his handicap and doubles record for the "roaring grand." Although placed as far from the traps as anyone can be, he had scores of 97, 99 and 97, and in the twin-target doubles he was down only three, for a 97.5 average on the most difficult events in the game.

In the preliminary handicap, second largest shot in the meet, petite Mrs. Petty broke 93 to lead the ladies, duplicating her feat of year ago in the Grand American. She broke 93 in the "grand" this year, and 94 in the Vandalia handicap. In the same handicaps Paul had scores of 93, 93 and 96, while brother John had 93, 93 and 93.

Thus the four Pettys, in the toughest matches on the program, broke 1154 of 1200 targets for a handicap average of 96.16. That's a mark few individuals approach—but four members of a single family did it this time to win the title of the "straightest shooting family in the world."

Davis Cup Won By Australians

By ED CORRIGAN
FOREST HILLS, N. Y. — (AP) — The United States had held the Davis cup since 1939, but the Australians, unimpressed with power as is the case of most youth, won it back over the weekend.

And today, the Aussies began their quest for a double—the American National Championship, which has been in this country since 1936. That year, Fred Perry of England beat Don Budge in the final for his third title in four years.

The Australians could do it, too. They have a better chance of winning the singles than they had of taking the cup which they grabbed in three straight matches. Yesterday's final two singles were anti-climactic. Frank Sedgman won from Ted Schroeder, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2, and Tom Brown salvaged something for the home cause by licking Ken McGregor, 9-11, 8-10, 11-9, 6-1, 6-4.

Schroeder, making his farewell in cup competition, was far below his best. He looked as though he wanted to get it over as fast as possible. But Brown played as though the entire outcome of the cup hinged on the match.

Brown dropped the first two sets to McGregor more because of poor strategy than anything else. He insisted on trying to handle the young Aussie's service from inside the baseline, a virtually impossible task. In the final three sets he moved about five feet outside the baseline and that spelled McGregor's doom.

With Budge Patty, Wimbledon winner, having defaulted because of an injured ankle, McGregor or Sedgman loom as the likely favorites to take the singles title. O'Brien, according to the form chart, is young Herbie Flam, national clay courts ruler. He was seeded No. 2 in the domestic draw behind Patty. Now he automatically takes over the No. 1 spot.

However, on the basis of his performance against McGregor, Brown, who was a star back in 1947, stands the best chance of setting over the hurdles thrown up by the foreign players. Among the women, Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont, winner for the past two years, will have to get past such worries as Louise Brough, Pat Carnahan and Shirley Fry.

Tigers Battle To Hold Slim One-Game Lead

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Lefty Hal Newhouse carried the heavy burden of ace in the hole today as the Detroit Tigers fought to save first place in the American league.

Newhouse was Manager Red Rolfe's choice in the rubber game of the three game series with the Philadelphia Athletics after a double-header split Sunday.

It was Newhouse who came through last Thursday after the Yankees had won the first two games of that crucial series. He stopped the Yanks and the Tigers left New York with a 2-1 game lead instead of 1-1/2.

Rookie New Prospect
Today Hal was protecting a one-game margin over the Yankees.

Sunday the Athletics beat the Tigers 4-3 but Detroit came back to win the nightcap 8-1.

Rolfe had one consolation. He may have another pitcher who can help the Tigers in the stretch drive, and Art Houtteman is still on the beam.

The new prospect is Ray Herbert, a Detroit high school product who made his first major league appearance. Herbert was brought up last week from the Toledo Mudhens.

Herbert led the first game, but he held the A's to six hits and had things in control until Sam Chapman homered in the eighth.

Chapman's 22nd four-bagger came with the A's trailing 3-2. Ferris Fain scored ahead of him and that was the ball game.

Detroit jumped to a three-run lead in the first inning off pitcher Hank Wyse after two were out.

Attack Bogs Down
George Kell doubled and Vic Wertz singled him across. Hoot Evers' double scored Vic. Johnny Groth singled Hoot home, and the Tigers' attack bogged down the rest of the way.

Herbert gave up two runs in the fifth on singles by Joe Tipton and Barney McCosky, a walk, a sacrifice, and a long fly.

In the second game Houtteman was not as stingy with hits as his rookie teammate. But Art got better support from Tiger batsmen and recorded his 17th victory.

Walks put pitcher Lou Brissie of the A's in trouble in the first inning. Jerry Priddy, Vic Wertz, and Hoot Evers got the free passes.

Outfielder Johnny Groth then single two runs home.

Priddy's ninth, however, of the year came in the fourth to give Detroit three more runs. Houtteman and Lipon scored ahead of him.

In the ninth Manager Rolfe lifted catcher Bob Swift for a pinch-hitter, Charlie Keller. The Tigers had a 5-1 lead at the moment with Evers and Groth on first and second.

In the first game Keller had failed as a ninth inning pinch-hitter. This time he singled. Evers home Groth was then safe on Pete Suero's error and Lipon singled to complete the three-run outburst.

Tied On Games Won
Detroit goes into the final game of the series holding a 14-4 edge this year over the A's. Meanwhile New York will be tangling with the sixth-place Chicago White Sox.

The Tigers still hold a two-game edge over New York in the all-important loss column of the standings. But the Yankees have won just as many games as Detroit—56.

The third-place Cleveland Indians have also won 76 but have lost four more games than Detroit.

Wayne Takes Title

MIDLAND, Mich. — (AP)—Edmund Winczewski pitched a no-hitter, no-hit game Sunday night to give Wayne its second consecutive Michigan recreation association class A state softball title.

Wayne defeated Jackson, 4 to 0, in the final. Neddy, a Jackson pitcher, pitched first base.

Wayne lost to Jackson, 3 to 0, in a fifth round game for its only defeat in the double-elimination tournament.

'Stique Takes 'South' Title

Gladstone Loses; Bears Win Easily

Manistique clinched the Southern division championship of the Rainbow league Sunday by defeating Gladstone, 4 to 1. Tenary walloped Gladstone, 13 to 2 and Escanaba trimmed Groos, 16-3, in other southern division games.

In the Northern division Marquette trimmed Little Lake, 10-3. North Lake upset Munising, 8-5. The Diorite-Gwinn score was unreported.

The Escanaba-Groos game was called after five innings when the game turned into a rout. The Bears walloped Groos nine runs in the fourth inning, a makeshift Groos lineup after scoring seven runs in the first three innings.

Tenary scored in every inning except the second to defeat the Gladstone Redskins. Tenary got 14 hits to six for Gladstone.

Manistique played sparkling ball in defending its leadership at Chatham.

Perkins Defeats Rock In Benefit Ball Game, 7 to 6

Perkins defeated Rock, 7 to 6, in a benefit baseball game Sunday. The proceeds of the game were presented to Stanley Deloria. The game was called after seven innings because the Rock players had to return to their homes at five o'clock.

Perkins won the game with a three run rally in the sixth inning. G. Richards led the hitting for Perkins with three hits in four trips to the plate.

The line score:

Rock 202 200 0—6-8

Perkins 010 213 x—7-12

Valeen and Peltonen; Oman and Deloria, B. Richards.

Son Of Janitor Hailed As Great Golfing Champion

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

MINNEAPOLIS — (AP)—Sammy Urzetta, with his set of doctored clubs bought from caddy money, is a champion's champion.

After the 21-year-old son of an immigrant janitor won the national amateur title Saturday, his opponent, Frank Stranahan voiced the opinion of all:

"Sam, you are a great golfer and a great champion."

Stranahan, who has won the British, Canadian, French and other amateur crowns but never has been able to nail the U. S. diadem in five attempts, was a champion loser.

Iron Shots Sparkle

He told the affable Urzetta, the pride of Rochester, N. Y., that "of all the golfers I have played all over the world, both amateur and professional, you, Sammy, played the finest iron shots in our match that I have ever seen."

Urzetta and the millionaire's son from "Toledo," on Saturday battled 39 holes in the longest marathon in the 50-year history of the national amateur meet.

Stranahan's drive went out of bounds and he eventually missed a 10 foot putt to take a 6 on the final hole. Urzetta's tee shot was in a trap, he was short in 2, but was on with his third for two putts and a winning par 5.

Urzetta, was even par for the distance and Stranahan was one over. Frank was never up at any time, was outdriven on nearly every hole and was forced to make a half dozen pressure putts of from 6 to 8 feet to halve holes. Four times he came from behind to ensure matters, but could never press ahead.

"You know my real name is Salvatore, but everybody calls me Sammy," said Urzetta. "My big reason for wanting to win was my brother, Joe. He was killed in Germany during the war. He was a fine golfer, much better than I am."

Sam's big brother, "Dabe," an assistant pro at a nine-hole course in Rochester, and Frank Comisso, the club pro, were in the gallery. His father, an apartment house janitor (and I'm proud of it) volunteered Sam) and his mother were unable to make the trip. They never have seen their champion son play golf.

In Basketball Draft

Sam is unemployed, but the Minneapolis Lakers of the National Basketball Association have drafted him.

"I don't think I am good enough for pro basketball," asserted the sincere Urzetta who set national free throw records at St. Bonaventure last year. "But I am job hunting, all right."

Sam's first golf club when he was a little boy was an iron pipe curved at the end. The set he has now is about 10 years old and has been coddled.

Sam bought the clubs with money earned as a caddy. He has sandpapered the head of his driver and re-varnished it. His sand wedge is drilled with holes on the back side and filled with lead. His fairway wedge has a piece of iron welded on the back "to give the right weight I want to get direction. The top of his putter has been intentionally rusted so it will not catch the sun's glare.

"It's just a good set of caddy clubs and I'm prouder of them now than when I first got them," he said.

Before the trophy presentation ceremonies, Sammy dashed water in his face and combed his hair. Looking in the mirror he remarked:

"Who knows?—I never had a girl, but somehow I'm not as bad to look at now as I used to think I was."

As a matter of fact, Sammy is really a good looking, well built, well mannered and very personable fellow.

A champion's champion through and through.

Cooks, Nahma In Playoffs

Teams Open Series Next Sunday

Cooks and Nahma qualified for the playoffs in the Bay de Noc league Sunday. Cooks trimmed Rapid River, 7 to 4, and Nahma eliminated Fayette, 4-1.

A four run outburst in the eighth gave Cooks its decision over Rapid River. Olson homered for Cooks in the sixth and Gorman hit a four bagger for Rapid River with one on in the third.

The scores:

Rapid River 002 020 000—4-6-4

Cooks 000 201 04x—7-7-3

Gibson and Gorman; Halvorson and Griffin.

Nahma 1-11-3

Fayette 1-4-1

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK — (AP)—Yale Herman Hickman tabs the top four football teams in the Ivy league this year as equal to the top four in any other conference.

That helps to alleviate the pain in this author's Ivy-strapped neck, but Herman, the play doesn't go far enough. . . . Hickman follows the fashion of low-rating eastern football by saying the Ivy brand has improved greatly since 1946 and he says that it would have been "suicidal" to play these half-blooded big teams from the south or big ten. . . . It's our contention that the good Ivy teams, such as Cornell, Princeton and Dartmouth figure to be this fall, are as good as anybody for a game or two. . . . They just don't have the depth of good manpower to withstand the kind of schedules that produce national champions and since the 1920's, no member of this group has stayed on top long enough to establish itself as a "football school." Hickman also says "I would have to rate Cornell as one of the top five teams in the nation." Okay, boys, prove he's wrong—but we won't accept loud horseclashes as proof.

French Leave

Looking apprehensively toward Korea with a recollection of the manpower shortages in baseball during World War II, Harold Rooten, the Dodgers' drummer, tells this one. . . . Since Franco Thomson was managing New Orleans and experienced such a shortage that he sent a hurry-up wire to Branch Rickey for help.

Rickey screened the bottom to find a French-Canadian rookie somewhere in the deep bushes and sent him along to Thomson. . . . After the kid's first game,

Freco penned his daily report: "Canada arrived. Trouble is he still has in French. They pitch in English in this league."

Monday Matinee

Bill Dudley, who has worn No. 35 on his jersey throughout his college and pro football career, ran into a complication when he was traded to the Washington Redskins. . . . seems that number had been "retired" after years of distinguished service on Wilbur Moore's back. . . . But Wilbur, now an assistant Redskin coach, said: "Of course he's wearing 35; he's always worn it and he'll do the same here." Al Frahn, the voice of the P. A. system at Yankee stadium, has been recalled to active duty with the army. Gussy Moran confesses that she's a Ted Williams fan and always reads the papers to see what Ted did although she has no other interest in baseball. The contract for the Dayton-Chattanooga football game this fall stipulates that the Dayton Elmer Machine band must appear in Chattanooga and provides a financial guarantee. . . . seems the band made a 45-an impression as the team in 1949.

Success Story

Among the innumerable requests that a college press agent receives from kids during the football season, was one which really impressed Tub Thompson, Ed Elter of Michigan. . . . A top-grade kid from New York wrote for something and enclosed 15 cents for postage. . . . and wrapped around the dime and nickel was a cancelled check for a sale of 1949 Michigan - Army tickets that had should have a great career as a diplomat.

Stockpiles Of Critical Materials Woefully Low

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON—If the facts were known about the lack of American stockpiles of critical materials, there would be the makings of a national scandal. Like so many other grim truths in this town, they are classified secret.

This serves at least to keep the figures from the public. Whether it keeps them from Russian intelligence is another and much more doubtful matter. The deficiencies are so glaring, and the figures on production and consumption so widely published, that probably anyone with a pencil and paper could come close to the answers.

On July 23, 1946, Congress passed a stockpiling act with the expectation that the munitions board would acquire, over a five year period, stockpiles covering minimum requirements. These minimum requirements, according to a report of the munitions board for January, 1949, would "do no more than ease the desperately critical shortages that might otherwise block our war production completely."

Only 38% Obtained

Such minimum requirements, estimated to cost $3,773,000,000, were based on certain optimistic assumptions. It was assumed, for example, that a continuous flow of large quantities of materials would be available, and obtained, from overseas sources in a third world war. During 1942 and '43 German submarines repeatedly reduced the flow of critical materials to a trickle, threatening to shut down war industries. Today, Russia is estimated to have twice as many subs as the Nazis and, of the improved schnorkel type.

On January 23 of this year the munitions board reported that only 30 per cent of the minimum stockpiles had been acquired. Half of this total came from surplus government stocks out of World War II and ECA purchases. This meant that only little more than 15 per cent of the minimum had actually been bought by the munitions board in three and a half years. The stockpile at that point contained materials valued at only $1,149,000,000.

A month ago the munitions board reported that it had acquired 28.4 per cent of minimum requirements. Another 12 per cent was reported to be "on order." And, incidentally, what a familiar sound that phrase "on order" has. It was used to cover up woeful deficiencies in the 1940-41 period—a period remote in history when America still had time to re-arm while other nations bore the first wave of attack.

Critical Materials

Shocking as it is, this over-all percentage does not reveal the real seriousness of the present situation. Some materials on the list of 71 different commodities to be stockpiled are of far more critical importance than others. Such minerals as manganese and chrome are examples. Manganese must go into every ton of steel that is made.

It is in these super-critical fields that the most serious shortages are believed to exist. If many American ships were sunk in a major war, these shortages would cripple vital war industry to the point of a shutdown.

Yet even now, insofar as I have been able to discover, steps to remedy these deficiencies are not being taken with anything like the urgency required. It has been said that this is the "phony war" phase of the present conflict. If that is true, it should be added that we are still in the period of phony defense.

Little or nothing has been done to develop domestic sources of strategic minerals to replace, or at any rate to supplement, foreign sources. That involves paying a premium price, and it also means cutting across established patterns of trade dominated by large and powerful business.

In May of this year representative Wesley A. D'Ewart of Montana, in a speech on the floor of the House, pointed to the woeful deficiencies in stockpiling. He recommended the creation of an independent agency "to commence immediately and carry out an intensive, all-out 10 to 12 year government-financed program, designed, and geared, to have private enterprise explore, develop and mine the nation's undeveloped mineral deposits and expand existing operations."

It was already very late when that recommendation was made; late particularly with respect to the need to keep skilled labor in
